

Communication Policies

Posting Policy for the Sorrento Web Site

The website (www.sorrentoatthecolony.org) provides a communication vehicle for the Sorrento Homeowners Association that contains:

- Lists of Board members, committee members, staff, and owners
- Condo documents, amendments, and rules
- Forms, rules, and information for realtors, vendors, and purchasers
- Agendas and Minutes from Board of Directors meetings and reports from meetings of committees
- Communications from Board of Directors
- Association budget information
- Printable and electronic forms for owners
- Monthly calendars of building events and meetings
- Photographs of the building and of social events
- Recommended procedures for emergency situations
- Weather news (e.g., about hurricanes) when needed
- Links to websites of local interest such as community sites (e.g., PLCA), news sites (e.g., ABC News), hurricane information sites (e.g., the National Hurricane Center), entertainment information sites (e.g., movie schedules)
- Personal news and achievements of owners

The Web Committee reserves the right to use its discretion in deeming material suitable for inclusion in the website and in denying the inclusion of inappropriate content. Inappropriate content includes material that

- May be detrimental to the Association and/or to public perception of The Sorrento.
- Contains controversial personal opinions.
- Contains attacks on individual owners or groups of owners.

Correspondence Policies

1. Correspondence to the Board will be kept in the Office for viewing by interested owners after it has been addressed in a Board meeting.
2. Correspondences from member to member are not legally deemed to be Association documents, and therefore the Office is not responsible for distributing copies thereof to members or for maintaining copies thereof for viewing by owners.
3. The Office is responsible for communication with owners at the direction of the Board; however, the Office is not responsible for non-Board-directed communications between members of the Association.
4. The Office will not be responsible for scanning long documents to be distributed electronically by individual owners.
